Bulgarian Army Flees Toward Monastir in Disorder.

FRENCH MAKE HEAVY GAINS

Florina, in Northwestern Macedonia, Carried by Assault of French, Russian and Serbian Troops—Bulgars Played Too Dangerous a Game.

Paris, Sept. 19.—Florina, an important town in Northwestern Macedonia, was carried by assault by French, Russian and Serbian troops, according to an official statement issued here.

The Bulgarians are retreating in disorder in the direction of Monastir, the statement adds; Serbian troops also have gained successes in the region of Lake Ostrovo.

London, Sept. 19.—Dispatches reaching London describe the operations which resulted in the capture by the entente allies forces of Florina, Macedonia.

According to Reuter's Saloniki correspondent, the Bulgarians, in extending their line so far south as the region of Lake Ostrovo with limited forces, played a bold but dangerous game.

Serbian Strike Flank.

Success would have compromised the whole entente allied line, but lack of success was bound to prove costly by jeopardizing the whole Bulgarian right.

The first wavering among the Bulgarians was caused by the unexpected pressure of the French and Russians on their extreme flank, and the Serbians, profiting by this indecision, attacked energetically.

At first the Serbian infantry made little impression on the well-trenched Bulgars, but after a strong bombardment with high explosives the Serbians carried line after line of trenches, compelling the Bulgars to abandon the whole of their advanced positions along the Malkandze range, with thirty-two guns.

The whole Bulgarian right wing fell back and the entente allies obtained command of the ranges dominating the Florina plain.

Secrecy Aids Success.

An Athens dispatch describes the latter phases of the concentration for the attack on Florina, which was carried out with the great secrecy.

The contingents were divided into three parties in a converging movement to connect at Florina. The Russians started from Verria, southwest of Saloniki, and proceeded by forced marches.

A French column was directed against the same objective, while the Serbians in the region of Horovitz were ordered to repel the Bulgars from the heights in the vicinity of Eekshu and Petroskou. The Bulgars were decimated and fled, leaving everything behind.

The road to Monastir, the dispatch adds, is now free, and it is safe to predict that the entente allies will meet with little resistance in taking the town.

ALLIES AGAIN SCORE GAINS ALONG SOMME

London, Sept. 19.—The British line has been advanced a thousand yards along a one-mile front, says the official statement from general headquarters. A powerfully fortified German work known as "The Quadrilateral" has fallen completely into British hands.

Progress also was made north of Flers, where heavy German counter attacks were repulsed.

Both north and south of the Somme river in France the British and French troops at various points are keeping up their vigorous offensive against the Germans, and have achieved further successes and put down strong German counter attacks.

South of Comblès the French have taken additional trenches, making stronger their investment of the little town, which is now almost completely surrounded.

Say Vessel Was Not Warned.

New York, Sept. 19.—G. W. Dillard, Richmond, Va., and other American survivors of the British steamer Kelvina, made depositions on their arrival here that the Kelvina was torpedoed and sunk without warning. The Kelvina was under charter to an English firm and was carrying horses from Newport News to Glasgow. She was torpedoed at 2:20 a. m. on Sept. 2 in the Bristol channel.

PRINCE ALBERT.

Prince Albert, second son of King George and Queen Mary of England, who is twenty-one years old, has been invalided home on account of an abdominal abscess, says an official communication. The communication adds that the prince, who has undergone an operation, is doing well, but it will be some time before he is able to return to any duty.

BRITISH NOW USING STEEL "LAND SHIPS"

London, Sept. 19.—Credit for the new "traveling land forts" which have been used during the past few days on the British front belongs to two men, Lieutenant Colonel Ed Swinton of the intelligence department of the general staff and Major Stern. The Daily Mail describes the new monsters as follows:

"These long, low, dust colored torpedoes have no resemblance to motor cars. They are in fact steel land ships of immense power and wonderful capacity. In practice they can club walls, push through dense woods, cross trenches and maneuver in and out of craters."

PRIVATE BANKER IS SUICIDE

Joseph Tuma Takes Own Life in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The suicide of Joseph Tuma, head of the Tuma Savings bank, a private institution, and the indictment of four private bankers were the latest developments in Chicago's epidemic of private bank failures and a general inquiry into these institutions.

The state's attorney announced that the grand jury had voted true bills against Michael and Stephen Michnick on charges of receiving deposits while their private bank was insolvent, and against Moses Ginsberg and his son Emanuel, who conducted another private bank, on the same charge.

Runs continued on some private banks which had no difficulty in meeting the demands.

UNIONS SUE COMMERCE BODY

San Francisco Organizations Seek to Recover $300,000.

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—Suit for an injunction and for $300,000 damages was filed here in superior court against the law and order committee of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco by the Cooks' and Waiters' unions and allied organizations through Emil G. Buehrer, the nominal plaintiff.

The complaint charges that the law and order committee has formed a conspiracy in violation of the penal code "to Mexicanize the laboring class . . . and reduce the said laboring class to a condition of peonage and slavery."

Former Singer's Body Found.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 19.—A badly decomposed body, believed to be that of Jack Martin, former well-known light opera star, who drowned in the river while employed as a laborer on a government rock barge, has been found in the Mississippi a few miles south of here. Martin was one of the stars of the famous Bostonians a number of years ago. He met with reverses after losing his voice.

BLACK DIAMOND TRAIL BOOSTERS WELCOMED TO BRAINERD TODAY

Highway Replete With Scenic Features, Connects the Garden Spots of the Great Northwest

Henry I. Cohen, President of Fargo-Duluth Highway Association, Opens Convention

Brainerd was captured early in the day by a well organized army of "Black Diamond Trail" boosters and by the look of their eyes, the set of their jaws and the ammunition carried. "The Black Diamond Trail" will be one of the most important highways in all the United States. If grit, energy, perseverance, work-together spirit, community interest, community co-operation ever spelled success for a road, it will spell it this time in capital letters like this, "SUCCESS TO THE BLACK DIAMOND TRAIL."

Now we have run out of caps and will proceed lower case, conversational tone.

John Dover, secretary of the Fargo-Duluth Highway Association, was asked for his cut, but the Wadena lumber man is a modest sort of a chap. He had no cut.

In response to an appeal for a story on the trail, he turned over the request to W. E. Verity, editor and manager of the Wadena Pioneer Journal. "Bill" just got married and is better posted on the road to happiness and the honeymoon territory, but a newspaper man never forgets to advertise his native town or pet projects and so, out of the abundance of his happiness, and we doubt not, with Mrs. Verity peering over his shoulder, Mr. Verity gave the Dispatch this picture of the "Black Diamond Trail." Mr. Verity speaks with authority, for he was one of the originators of the plan which led to the formation of the organization.

"The highway, as planned, will be replete with scenic features, is based upon a real demand for a good road through a well populated and rich section of the state which is now badly in need of such a trunk line, which may be used for utilitarian purposes.

"At the present time it is not an easy matter for an autoist to go from, say Wadena, to either Duluth or Fargo. True, most of the road is already built along the line proposed, but there are a number of very bad stretches, some of which are so bad that the average motorist prefers not to tackle them.

These bad places may be said to exist in three places. First, near New York Mills, second, between Staples and Brainerd, and third, in Aitkin county.

Asking the Complete Separation Companies

(By United Press) Washington, Sept. 19.—Declaring that the Reading "combination" is the backbone of the alleged anthracite monopoly, that it controls two-thirds of the anthracite deposits and that its supply will many years outlast that of any other producer, the government filed in the United States supreme court a brief asking that a complete separation of the Reading company, Philadelphia & Reading railway company, Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company and others be made, a violation of the Sherman law being charged.

Make Plans to Handle Sympathetic Strike

(By United Press) New York, Sept. 19.—Mayor Mitchell and Chairman Straus, of the public service commission, are meeting to arrange for handling conditions of the present general sympathetic strike of the carmen through New York.

RAIN HALTS WAR PROGRESS

(By United Press) London, Sept. 19.—A steady downpouring of rain has halted the British operations on the Somme front according to an official report, and no important fighting has occurred since yesterday. The British entered the enemy's trenches at three separate places at Highbough Laboue, taking prisoners and inflicting casualties.

STRIKES WARLIKE NOTE

(By United Press) The Hague, Sept. 19.—Queen Wilhelmina struck a warlike note in addressing the opening session of parliament when she said that important steps to strengthen the Dutch to resist any attacks upon the country's neutrality was being taken and that the supply of munitions of war material was materially growing.

GREAT BATTLES BETWEEN BIG LAND DREADNAUGHTS

(By United Press) London, Sept. 19.—Great battles are predicted by the great fleet of land dreadnaughts as a result of the introduction of motor car monsters, called tanks, on the Somme front.

ATTEMPT BOLD STROKE

(By United Press) Paris, Sept. 19.—The Germans attempted a bold stroke against Deadman's Hill where there has been but little fighting for several weeks. The Russian contingents defended these fronts and checked all attacks.

GERMANS SURRENDER TRENCH

(By United Press) Berlin, Sept. 19.—The Germans surrendered the trenches to the British east of Ginchy and north of Comblès, but repulsed the French attacks near Belloy and Vermandovillers, south of the Somme.

APPARENTLY DISPLEASED

(By United Press) Athens, Sept. 19.—Foreign Minister Carepanos has received congratulatory visits from all diplomats in Athens, except the allies.

Note—This is the first censored dispatch indicating that the allies are displeased with the new minister.

ACTIVE SERBIAN ARTILLERY

Paris, Sept. 19.—Italians and Bulgarians were in violent battle east of Heles mountains in Macedonia on the Verrenik section. The Serbian artillery repulsed two Bulgarian counter attacks.

CROSS SERBIAN FRONTIER

London, Sept. 19.—The allies have crossed the Serbian frontier in two places advancing against the Bulgarian base at Monastir. The Serbians fighting on native soil for the first time since their retreat through Albania last winter.

VON PAPAN IS AT THE FRONT

Former Attache in Thick of Conflict on Somme Line.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—Captain Franz von Papan, former German military attache at Washington, now is in the center of fighting on the Somme front. He is the chief general staff officer of a division holding one of the most crucial sectors on this front, against which the entente allies have for weeks been launching their heaviest attacks.

Sven Hedin Returns.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—Sven Hedin, the explorer, has returned to Constantinople after a six months' trip in Syria, Mesopotamia, Arabia and the Sinai peninsula, a dispatch from the Turkish capital says.

HEBREW UNIONS VOTE TO STRIKE

Await Call of Central Organization in New York.

MORE CAR MEN WALK OUT

United Hebrew Trades, Representing 200,000 Membership, Will Join Sympathetic Strike if Called Upon. Leaders Predict 700,000 Will Quit.

New York, Sept. 19.—The United Hebrew Trades, representing a membership of 200,000 organized workers, voted to go on a sympathetic strike as an aid to the striking carmen, if they are called on to do so by the Central Federated union.

The vote was taken at a meeting of delegates said to represent every craft in the United Trades, including the garment industries, in which many women are employed.

Five hundred motormen and conductors employed by the New York and Queens Railway company have struck. Brooklyn and Richmond (Staten Island) now are the only boroughs of the city not affected by the strike.

700,000 Out Thursday.

Failure of negotiations, being conducted by Mayor Mitchell to provide a basis of settlement of the traction strike in this city will result in a call Thursday for a sympathetic strike of approximately 700,000 workers, union leaders declared after a conference of several crafts.

The call will be issued, it was stated, to all unions affiliated with the Central Federated Union of New York, the Central Labor Union of Brooklyn, and the Federated Union of the Bronx, Westchester and Yonkers. Some of the unions already have authorized a strike, union leaders said, and referendums are in progress in others.

ATTACK ELEVATED TRAINS

Gotham Strike Sympathizers Hurt Stones and Bottles.

New York, Sept. 19.—Repeated attacks from roof-tops were made on passing elevated trains during the early hours of the day.

Stones and bottles crashed through car windows and several passengers were injured.

In the Bronx a policeman was hurt while dispersing a crowd of strike sympathizers who were throwing bricks.

Normal service on subway and elevated lines is being maintained, according to police reports.

VILLAISTAS CHARGE IN HAIL OF LEAD

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 19.—A detachment of twenty Villa cavalrymen engaged Carranza infantrymen on the second floor of the state palace, according to additional details of the attack upon Chihuahua City received here by Andreas Garcia, Mexican consul.

The bandits rode their horses into the building and up the stone steps to the second floor in pursuit of the government guard, which fell back before them.

De facto marksmen picked off six of the mounted bandits as they rode into one of the rooms, the remainder making their escape, but not until several horses had been killed, it was stated.

The consular dispatches added that Jose Inez Salazar, one of the most notorious of the Mexican leaders who have operated along the American frontier in Mexico's five years of civil strife, was killed in the engagement following his liberation from the penitentiary.

Juan Beltram commanded the bandits in the attack, according to the message, while Villa himself remained outside the city.

Reports received here by United States secret service agents and transmitted to Washington indicated Villa adherents regard the attack as resulting in at least a moral victory for Villa, who, according to them, made the foray without intention of occupying the city, but rather as a physical demonstration of his ability to give disgruntled Carranza soldiers an opportunity to join him.

Youth Is Fined 1 Cent.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—A fine of 1 cent and two minutes' imprisonment in a court room chair was the punishment imposed on Michael Levin by Federal Judge Landis. Levin, who is twenty years old, had been found guilty of falsifying concerning his age to obtain a postoffice position.

Two Minutes After the Great Span of the Quebec Bridge Collapsed

This photograph was taken two minutes after the great central span of the Quebec Bridge over the St. Lawrence river collapsed and sank. The arrow indicates the point where the central span fell. Eleven men lost their lives. The span was being placed between the two approaches and was being hoisted on jacks when something gave way. The tugs in the river are shown hunting for survivors. The wreckage is part of the structure that went down.

The consular dispatches added that Jose Inez Salazar, one of the most notorious of the Mexican leaders who have operated along the American frontier in Mexico's five years of civil strife, was killed in the engagement following his liberation from the penitentiary.

Juan Beltram commanded the bandits in the attack, according to the message, while Villa himself remained outside the city.

Reports received here by United States secret service agents and transmitted to Washington indicated Villa adherents regard the attack as resulting in at least a moral victory for Villa, who, according to them, made the foray without intention of occupying the city, but rather as a physical demonstration of his ability to give disgruntled Carranza soldiers an opportunity to join him.

Youth Is Fined 1 Cent.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—A fine of 1 cent and two minutes' imprisonment in a court room chair was the punishment imposed on Michael Levin by Federal Judge Landis. Levin, who is twenty years old, had been found guilty of falsifying concerning his age to obtain a postoffice position.

This photograph was taken two minutes after the great central span of the Quebec Bridge over the St. Lawrence river collapsed and sank. The arrow indicates the point where the central span fell. Eleven men lost their lives. The span was being placed between the two approaches and was being hoisted on jacks when something gave way. The tugs in the river are shown hunting for survivors. The wreckage is part of the structure that went down.

Care of Table Linen

Do not let linen become too soiled, because hard rubbing is likely to break the fibers. Remove all stains before linen is to be washed. The stains come out much better if removed as soon as they occur. Do not use a wringer, but wring linen by hand.
Rinse the soap out thoroughly before linen is placed in bluing water, for sometimes rust spots are caused by a chemical reaction between the bluing and the soap, and these are hard to remove. Do not starch good linen, as it does not need it, and the linen will last longer without it. Hang in the sun to whiten. Use a hot iron, but do not scorch. Iron with the grain of the material. If linen is to be stored for some time, wrap it in blue tissue paper or in a blue cloth.

Explaining it.

Views of President of State
Good Roads Association.

THE COST OF MARKETING.

Bad Condition of Roads Affects Both
Labor and Transportation Expense
of Crops—Good Highways Economical and Better Social and Educational Facilities.

Kansas is distinctly an agricultural
state, and agricultural products form
its chief source of wealth, writes J. T.
Kinkaid, president of the Kansas Good Roads association, in the Kansas
Farmer. The value of its farm products for 1914 amounted to more than $376,000,000. This means that to deliver this grain to market would require 3,000,000 wagon loads of wheat
of sixty bushels each, 2,000,000 wagon
loads of corn of forty-three and a half bushels each, 450,000 loads of oats of

fully realize the annual loss through
inability to market crops when prices
are best, the loss in time and energy
in dragging half loads over muddy
roads when their depth almost equals
their width, taking days to accomplish
what ought to be done in a few hours;
the loss through exhaustion of teams,
breakage of harness and vehicles, to
say nothing of the expense of getting
your autos stuck in mud far away
from home and garages? Yet all these losses are very real. If they could be aggregated and presented in tangible form the amount would be startling.

Our present system of road management is not very different from what it was when we traveled by stagecoach,
harvested with the cradle, thrashed
with the flail and hauled our money in the family stock. Our road laws are antiquated and do not meet the requirements of modern conditions.

If, as was said at the bankers' convention in Topeka, the bank is the heart of the community, then certainly
the roads and highways are the veins
that convey to this heart the wealth of stock and field—its life blood—and these same roads and highways are the arteries that carry the thrill of this heart to all the activities within its sphere of influence.

Net profits alone make accumulations
possible, and easy means of communication and transportation improve social conditions, and I assert that true
prosperity only comes when both of these are secured and that good roads
are the most important factor in obtaining them.

When the World is Full.

The mean decennial rate of increase in the population of the world is 8 per cent, and at this rate the 28,000,000
square miles comprising the fertile regions of the earth, which Ravenstein
computed can only support 207 persons
per square mile, will have their maximum population of 5,394,000,000 persons in the year 2072. This estimate allows fourteen persons per square mile
in the 18,000,000 square miles of steppes
and deserts.

Crookedest Railroad in the World.

Up California's Tamaulipas runs the crookedest railroad in the world. Of the eight miles of track the longest tangent is but 413 feet. In one notable instance the road makes five complete loops and ties two complete bowknuts
to attain an elevation of ninety feet.
The end of the line is about half a mile higher than the starting point, and
there is not one particularly steep
grade in the entire system.—Wall Street Journal.

To Get Best Results With Potatoes.

It is amazing how few even good roads and still fewer housewives know
of the following aid in cooking:

Never put salt in the water when boiling potatoes. When entirely done,
drain, shake in the air for a second,
then sprinkle generously with salt and return to a slow fire. This makes even
a poor variety palatable. If you doubt it, just try it once.—New York Sun.

Views of President of State
Good Roads Association.

THE COST OF MARKETING.

Bad Condition of Roads Affects Both
Labor and Transportation Expense
of Crops—Good Highways Economical and Better Social and Educational Facilities.

Kansas is distinctly an agricultural
state, and agricultural products form
its chief source of wealth, writes J. T.
Kinhard, president of the Kansas Good
Roads association, in the Kansas
Farmer. The value of its farm products for 1914 amounted to more than $376,000,000. This means that to deliver this grain to market would require 3,000,000 wagon loads of wheat
of sixty bushels each, 2,000,000 wagon
loads of corn of forty-three and a half

fully realize the annual loss through
inability to market crops when prices
are best, the loss in time and energy
in dragging half loads over muddy
roads when their depth almost equals
their width, taking days to accomplish
what ought to be done in a few hours;
the loss through exhaustion of teams,
breakage of harness and vehicles, to
say nothing of the expense of getting
your autos stuck in mud far away
from home and garages? Yet all these losses are very real. If they
tangible form the amount would be
startling.

Our present system of road management is not very different from what it
was when we traveled by stagecoach,
harvested with the cradle, thrashed
with the flail and banked our money in the family stocking. Our road laws are antiquated and do not meet the requirements of modern conditions.

If, as was said at the bankers' convention in Topeka, the bank is the heart of the community, then certainly
the roads and highways are the veins
that convey to this heart the wealth of dock and field—its life blood—and these same roads and highways are the
arteries that carry the thrill of this
heart to all the activities within its
sphere of influence.

Net profits alone make accumulations
possible, and easy means of communication and transportation improve social conditions, and I assert that true
prosperity only comes when both of
these are secured and that good roads
are the most important factor in obtaining them.

When the World is Full.
The mean decadal rate of increase in the population of the world is 8 per cent, and at this rate the 28,000,000
square miles comprising the fertile regions of the earth, which Ravenstein
computed can only support 207 persons
per square mile, will have their maximum population of 5,934,000,000 persons in the year 2072. This estimate
allows fourteen persons per square mile
in the 18,000,000 square miles of steppes
and deserts.

Crookedest Railroad in the World.
Up California's Tierras del Norte runs the crookedest railroad in the world. Of the eight miles of track the longest
instance the road makes five complete
loops and ties two complete bowknots
to attain an elevation of ninety feet.
The end of the line is about half a mile
higher than the starting point, and
there is not one particularly steep
Journal.

To Get Best Results With Potatoes.
It is amazing how few even good cooks and still fewer housewives know
of the following aid in cooking:
Never put salt in the water when
boiling potatoes. When entirely done,
drain, shake in the air for a second,
then sprinkle generously with salt and
a poor variety palatable. If you doubt
it, just try it once.—New York Sun.

WOMAN'S REALM

State Federation Womans' Clubs

(By United Press)

Anoka, Minn., Sept. 19.—Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of Los Angeles, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, is attending the State Federation convention here today. Mrs. Cowles will tell how, because she opposed the California federation's taking up suffrage as an issue, hundreds of anti-suffragists flocked to her standard and joined the federation. Mrs. Cowles is an ardent suffragist.

Anoka, Sept. 19.—500 delegates are in attendance at the state federation of woman's clubs. Mrs. Cowles national president, in her opening address urged greater cooperation of state and national organizations. Mrs. George Welsh of Fergus Falls, paid a high tribute to Gov. Burnquist for reappointing the visiting committee for the girls' state home.

She Found It Paid

Anoka, Minn., Sept. 19.—Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, Los Angeles, Calif., the woman that did what she didn't want to and got away with it, comes tomorrow to attend the annual convention of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, which opened a three day session. Mrs. Cowles is the new president of the general federation of women's clubs.

Mrs. Cowles is a strong suffragist. When matters were being urged in California, she worked against the California Federation of Women's clubs taking a hold the project as a federation issue. That's just what she didn't want to do. But she found it paid. Women of the Golden Gate state, opposed woman suffrage, flocked to her standard. Many of them joined the federation.

Another thing for which Mrs. Cowles is strong is week end jaunts. She and Dr. Cowles, prominent physician, often take week end likes to the mountains north of Aladena, where they live.

Few women are aware of the great part Mrs. Cowles has been taking in the work of the federation for many years. When the biennial meeting was held in Cincinnati and when Mrs. Philip N. Moore, then president, met with an accident and broke her ankle, Mrs. Cowles assumed the leadership at several of the meetings. Her record as a worker in the federation shows that in 1902, when the general federation biennial met in Los Angeles, Mrs. Cowles was president of the board. She was chairman of the reception committee when the general federation met in St. Louis in 1904, and was there made a director; in 1906 was elected treasurer and first vice president from 1903 to 1912; a member of the executive committee from 1912 to 1913; chairman of the finance committee from 1908 to 1912; chairman of the peace committee from 1912 to 1916; chairman of biennial committee in charge of the San Francisco biennial in 1912, when she could, it is generally recognized, have been president.

Other distinguished guests who will attend the first session of the meeting will be seven directors of the General federation from seven western states. They are Mrs. Selon Shett, Washington; Mrs. Sarah E. Evans, Oregon; Mrs. R. B. Porter, Utah; Mrs. W. J. Higgins, Montana; Mrs. Z. E. Wilson, South Dakota; and Miss Minnie Neilson, North Dakota. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, director from Minnesota, also will attend.

Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Mayo were pleasantly surprised Saturday evening by about twenty of their friends, the occasion being Mrs. Mayo's birthday. The evening was spent playing "500" after which a sumptuous lunch was served by the hostess. All spent a very pleasant evening and after wishing Mrs. Mayo many more happy birthdays departed for their homes. The latter received many pretty and useful tokens of remembrance.

Recipe For Making Bread With Dry Yeast

Here is a recipe made with dry yeast that we know makes good bread, writes a correspondent of the Iowa Homestead: Set the sponge at night. When you start your evening meal put a yeast cake to soak in lukewarm water. Cook your potatoes without salt and save the water from them and two medium sized potatoes. Run the potatoes through a fine sieve while they are still warm. When the evening's work is finished stir into the potato water the potato, about a quart of flour and the well soaked yeast cake. There should be nearly a quart of water. If the sponge should be too thick add a little water until it is the right consistency. It should be considerably thicker than cake batter. Beat thoroughly and set away until morning. If the weather is cool put the sponge where it will keep reasonably warm. It should be light and bubbly.

In the morning add to the sponge a tablespoonful of lard, two tablespoonfuls of salt, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and flour enough to make dough of proper consistency, which should be about a quart and a half. Knead until the dough is quite smooth and elastic. The dough should not be sticky. A difference in flour will make a difference in the amount to be used. Place the dough in a greased bowl, grease the top of the dough lightly to keep crust from forming, cover and let rise in a warm place.

When the dough has doubled in bulk knead down. Do this three times, then make out into loaves. Let rise again and bake from forty-five minutes to an hour in an oven that will brown white paper in five minutes. The bread should be an even color and have a crust about one-eighth of an inch thick.

Vain Search.

"Easy, son. Always try to see some good in everybody."

"I have tried. But it gets tiresome when you have to look for it with a microscope."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

War's Effects in Italy

BY JOHN H. HEARLEY.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Rome, July 3 (By Mail)—Italy, eighteen months ago was commercially and industrially bound hand and foot to Germany. War unloosed the bonds. With the help of English finances, Italy today is working out her own commercial salvation.

When war began in 1914, millions of dollars in German money suddenly were withdrawn from Italian enterprises and the tourist trade, Italy's chief source of wealth, stopped. A national moratorium became necessary. The bank of Italy and other patriotic institutions saved the country from bankruptcy.

Readjustment was in progress when war between Italy and Austria was declared. A general war tax levy was prepared. Even the household piano did not escape. On all checks and receipts, a recent levy of two cents up has been placed.

With munition factories, Italy became dotted. They were a preparation for war and its aftermath, for they are so put up they may be converted into factories of peace. An arms factory near Naples will become a dye works. Other plants will become machine shops. New Italy dream of real industrial greatness within ten years.

The sudden elimination of German imports threw financial burden on the Italian inventive genius of the Latin race. Drugs, clothes and other products looked on as exclusively German, began to be made at home.

Nothing better illustrates Germany's industrial invasion of Italy than its manufacture of typically Italian goods. For centuries the Romans and Florentines have been artists in hand made mosaic floors and ceilings and dress ornaments. The Germans invented machines for such manufacture at home. German made mosaics for years have been sold in Italy far more cheaply than the Italian product could be.

The government is encouraging Italian industry. Associations to make Italians own Italy, are everywhere. "Italy First" is the new motto. Recently all the Italian traveling men organized into one big association.

The cost of water power has decreased during the war. Electricity for manufacturing purposes has gone down. Having no coal now is working an electrical revolution in Italy. Electricity even for the domestic hearing, lighting and cooking seems certain.

Italy's domestic life has been much affected by the conflict, especially in the smaller villages of the north and south. At first, speculation in necessities was prevalent. Unnecessary suffering was occasioned by get-rich-quick dealers and producers. Municipalities have done much to stop such abuses. Municipal shops have been opened everywhere. These sell necessities generally at the prices which obtained before the war. First service and preference are given to the poorer classes.

In the municipally owned stores milk sells for eight cents a pint. Private dealers ask ten cents. Municipal bread and the private stock cost about the same amount. The common or war variety is sold at four cents a pound, while the luxury kind brings six cents a pound. The bread is all of a brownish, puffy sort, in which water is generally used. White flour is allowed only in the making of cake.

Meats are especially high. A pound of the best cut beef costs thirty-six cents in the municipal stores and fifty cents in the private places. Except in the case of milk the municipal supplies are always inferior to the private.

Practically all cooking is now done by gas. Coal has become the rarest luxury. Anthracite, which before the war brought $13 a ton, now sells for $40. Even coke has jumped from $9 to $32 a ton.

Wearing apparel also has increased in cost. The price of dresses for women and suits for men are at least twenty per cent higher now than before the war.

The rich generally have been the hardest hit, especially those with holdings in Austria and Germany. In many instances war has robbed them of at least half their fortunes. Automobiles have had to be given up and servants reduced in numbers. Even hands that had never known work suddenly have had to toil.

A middle class family of six, living on $2 a day before the war, now must spend almost $3. This expenditure will provide daily supplies of wine and vegetables and meat once a day. Clothing absolutely necessary generally is reckoned in this outlay, but house rental usually is not.

In many ways the poor have suffered materially the least by the war. The beggars are the single exception. Their suffering is pathetic.

KG BAKING POWDER — Ask him

They have been accustomed to look mostly to the traveling public for aims, but now no traveling public touches Italy.

The poor, however, generally are in good spirits. They live for the most part on wine and vegetables, which have increased little or not at all in price. Moreover, the effect of the absence of fathers, husbands and sons at the front is partly counterbalanced by the wartime work of the women and children at home. Civic and military organizations pay them unusually well for making clothing and other articles, necessary for the soldiers in the front.

British Motorists Have More Trouble

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 19.—If American motorists feel troubled over the cost of gas for their buzz carts, let them listen to the British troubles and rejoice at their own good fortune.

The British private motor car owner is unable to get the gas he wants at any price. When German submarines began torpedoing the oil tank ships from the United States, the American oil men quit shipping it. Consequently gasoline is so scarce in England that it is given out by card to car owners in very limited quantities.

Not only is the private motor car owner compelled to present his oil card whenever he wants to run his machine a few miles, but the little gas he gets is begrudged him. Many a motor car is in its garage until after the war on this account.

The government has allowed 60 percent of that asked for taxes, 25 percent of the private motor owners' demand and 2 gallons a month for motorcycles.

All evidences point to the doom of private motoring until after the war. And the private motor car owner blames the submarines and the American oil shipper.

The Story of an Ex-Convict

BY J. W. PEGLER.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) London, Sept. 19 (By Mail)—An ex-convict, veteran inmate of British prisons, today is mourned by his regiment and Scotland Yard alike as one of England's war heroes. With a whole list of convictions behind his name he led his way into the army, won the Victoria Cross and finally made the great atonement during the Big Push. The story was told here today.

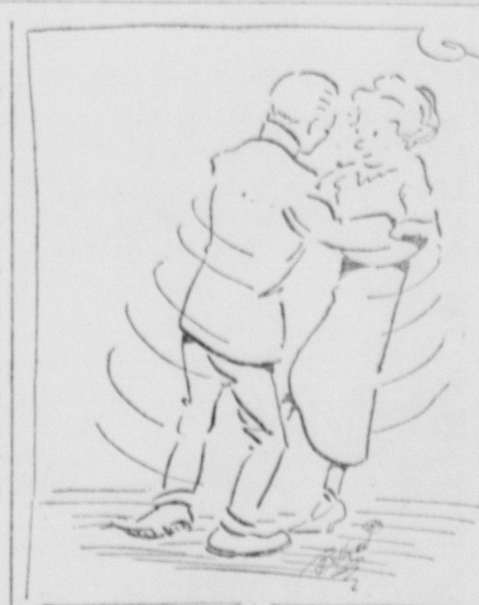

As a tribute to the burglar-hero the war office is shielding his name, but Scotland Yard remembers him of old. His bunkies in France recall him as a hollow cheeked man, slightly stooped, who took life and death as lightly as he did the prison sentences imposed from time to time by glowering judges. He had no relatives, his only friends, who took part in his forays against the law, are still in the game of cracking safes and evading arrest. Therefore his medal will become one of the treasures of a crack regiment of fighters.

The dead Tommy had just been released from prison when the war broke out. "Shaving water at nine" he said with a grin as the turnkey slammed the door behind him the night before his release. "I'm leaving early for the front."

"You'll be back again in a month," growled the case hardened warden as he switched off the lights in the tier. But the convict shed his name and police record with the prison greys and eased by a lax recruiting officer.

In a few months he was ankle deep in the icy slush of the trenches, sniping through a loophole and running in with his officers for taking rash chances. He was used to taking chances and couldn't see why they didn't go over the parapet and mix it with the Germans.

At last his opportunity came. The batallion went over with a howl and the burglar-Tommy yelled with glee as he ran firing his rifle from the hip. In the excitement of the fight he became separated from the batallion. A few yards away a German machine gun crew in a pit was pouring death into the charging ranks. Tommy ran to the brink of the pit and killed the crew.

When the lines were reformed he was first disciplined for disobeying orders—he shouldn't have gone astray—and then commended for his daring. Tommy merely smiled. Shortly later he received the V. C. and a furlough. The London police shook hands with him and bought him cigarettes. Tommy went back to France and went over the parapets against in the Big Push. A big shell killed him.

Here is a recipe made with dry yeast that we know makes good bread, writes a correspondent of the Iowa Homestead: Set the sponge at night. When you start your evening meal put a yeast cake to soak in lukewarm water. Cook your potatoes without salt and save the water from them and two medium sized potatoes. Run the potatoes through a fine sieve while they are still warm. When the evening's work is finished stir into the potato water the potato, about a quart of flour and the well soaked yeast cake. There should be nearly a quart of water. If the sponge should be too thick add a little water until it is the right consistency. It should be considerably thicker than cake batter. Beat thoroughly and set away until morning. If the weather is cool put the sponge where it will keep reasonably warm. It should be light and bubbly.

In the morning add to the sponge a tablespoonful of lard, two tablespoonfuls of salt, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and flour enough to make dough of proper consistency, which should be about a quart and a half. Knead until the dough is quite smooth and elastic. The dough should not be sticky. A difference in flour will make a difference in the amount to be used. Place the dough in a greased bowl, grease the top of the dough lightly to keep crust from forming, cover and let rise in a warm place.

When the dough has doubled in bulk knead down. Do this three times, then make out into loaves. Let rise again and bake from forty-five minutes to an hour in an oven that will brown white paper in five minutes. The bread should be an even color and have a crust about one-eighth of an inch thick.

War's Effects in Italy

BY JOHN H. HEARLEY.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Rome, July 3 (By Mail).—Italy, eighteen months ago was commercially and industrially bound hand and foot to Germany. War unlocked the bonds. With the help of English finances, Italy today is working out her own commercial salvation.

When war began in 1914, millions of dollars in German money suddenly were withdrawn from Italian enterprises and the tourist trade, Italy's chief source of wealth, stopped. A national moratorium became necessary. The bank of Italy and other patriotic institutions saved the country from bankruptcy.

Readjustment was in progress when war between Italy and Austria was declared. A general war tax levy was prepared. Even the household piano did not escape. On all checks and receipts, a recent levy of two cents up has been placed.

With munition factories, Italy became dotted. They were a preparation for war and its aftermath, for they are so put up they may be converted into factories of peace. An arms factory near Naples will become a dye works. Other plants will become machine shops. New Italy dream of real industrial greatness within ten years.

The sudden elimination of German imports threw financial burden on the Italian inventive genius of the Latin race. Drugs, clothes and other products looked on as exclusively German, began to be made at home.

Nothing better illustrates Germany's industrial invasion of Italy than its manufacture of typically Italian goods. For centuries the Romans and Florentines have been artists in hand made mosaic floors and ceilings and dress ornaments. The Germans invented machines for such manufacture at home. German made mosaics for years have been sold in Italy far more cheaply than the Italian product could be.

The cost of water power has decreased during the war. Electricity for manufacturing purposes has gone down. Having no coal now is working an electrical revolution in Italy. Electricity even for the domestic hearing, lighting and cooking seems certain.

Italy's domestic life has been much affected by the conflict, especially in the smaller villages of the north and south. At first, speculation in necessities was prevalent. Unnecessary suffering was occasioned by get-rich-quick dealers and producers. Municipalities have done much to stop such abuses. Municipal shops have been opened everywhere. These sell necessities generally at the prices which obtained before the war. First service and preference are given to the poorer classes.

In the municipally owned stores milk sells for eight cents a pint. Private dealers ask ten cents. Municipal bread and the private stock cost about the same amount. The common or war variety is sold at four cents a pound, while the luxury kind brings six cents a pound. The bread is all of a brownish, puffy sort, in which water is generally used. White flour is allowed only in the making of cake.

Meats are especially high. A pound of the best cut beef costs thirty-six cents in the municipal stores and fifty cents in the private places. Except in the case of milk the municipal supplies are always inferior to the private.

Practically all cooking is now done by gas. Coal has become the rarest luxury. Anthracite, which before the war brought $13 a ton, now sells for $40. Even coke has jumped from $9 to $32 a ton.

Wearing apparel also has increased in cost. The price of dresses for women and suits for men are at least twenty per cent higher now than before the war.

The rich generally have been the hardest hit, especially those with holdings in Austria and Germany. In many instances war has robbed them of at least half their fortunes. Automobiles have had to be given up and servants reduced in numbers. Even hands that had never known work suddenly have had to toil.

A middle class family of six, living on $2 a day before the war, now must spend almost $3. This expenditure will provide daily supplies of wine and vegetables and meat once a day. Clothing absolutely necessary generally is reckoned in this outlay, but house rental usually is not.

In many ways the poor have suffered materially the least by the war. The beggars are the single exception. Their suffering is pathetic.

KC BAKING POWDER—Ask him

They have been accustomed to look mostly to the traveling public for alms, but now no traveling public touches Italy.

The poor, however, generally are in good spirits. They live for the most part on wine and vegetables, which have increased little or not at all in price. Moreover, the effect of the absence of fathers, husbands and sons at the front is partly counterbalanced by the wartime work of the women and children at home. Civic and military organizations pay them unusually well for making clothing and other articles, necessary for the soldiers in the front.

British Motorists Have More Trouble

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 19.—If American motorists feel troubled over the cost of gas for their buzz carts, let them listen to the Britishers troubles and rejoice at their own good fortune.

The British private motor car owner is unable to get the gas he wants at any price. When German submarines began torpedoing the oil tank ships from the United States, the American oil men quit shipping it. Consequently gasoline is so scarce in England that it is given out by card to car owners in very limited quantities.

Not only is the private motor car owner compelled to present his oil card whenever he wants to run his machine a few miles, but the little gas he gets is begrudged him. Many a motor car is in its garage until after the war on this account.

The government has allowed 60 percent of that asked for taxis, 25 percent of the private motor owners' demand and 2 gallons a month for motorcycles.

All evidences point to the doom of private motoring until after the war. And the private motor car owner blames the submarines and the American oil shipper.

The Story of an Ex-Convict

BY J. W. FEGLER.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) London, Sept. 19 (By Mail).—An ex-convict, veteran inmate of British prisons, today is mourned by his regiment and Scotland Yard alike as one of England's war heroes. With a whole list of convictions behind him, he won the Victoria Cross and finally made the great atonement during the Big Push. The story was told here today.

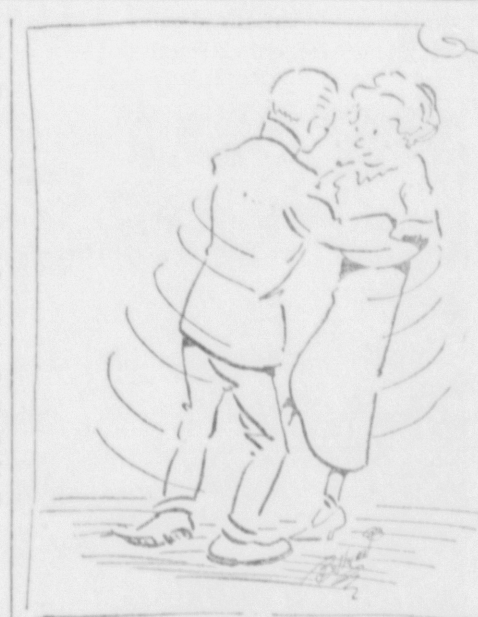

As a tribute to the burglar-hero the war office is shielding his name, but Scotland Yard remembers him of old. His bunkies in France recall him as a hollow checked man, slightly stooped, who took life and death as lightly as he did the prison sentences imposed from time to time by glowering judges. He had no relatives, his only friends, who took part in his forays against the law, are still in the game of cracking safes and evading arrest. Therefore his medal will become one of the treasures of a crack regiment of fighters.

The dead Tommy had just been released from prison when the war broke out. "Shaving water at nine" he said with a grin as the turnkey slammed the door behind him the night before his release. "I'm leaving early for the front."

"You'll be back again in a month," growled the case hardened warden as he switched off the lights in the tier. But the convict shed his name and police record with the prison greys and eased by a lax recruiting officer.

In a few months he was ankle deep in the icy slush of the trenches, sniping through a loophole and running-in with his officers for taking rash chances. He was used to taking chances and couldn't see why they didn't go over the parapet and mix it with the Germans.

battalion went over with a howl and the burglar-Tommy yelled with glee as he ran firing his rifle from the hip. In the excitement of the fight he became separated from the battalion. A few yards away a German machine gun crew in a pit was pouring death into the charging ranks. Tommy ran to the brink of the pit and killed the crew.

And It Called For a Salary of a Million Dollars a Year.
Only one man in the world ever tore up a $1,000,000 a year salary contract. When the Steel corporation took over the Carnegie company it acquired as one of its liabilities—it really was an asset—a contract to pay Charles M. Schwab that amount of money annually. J. P. Morgan didn't know what to do about it. The highest salary on record was $100,000. He was in a quandary. Finally he summoned Schwab, showed him the contract and hesitatingly asked what could be done about it. "This," said Schwab. He tore it up. That contract had netted Schwab $1,000,000 the previous year. "I didn't care what salary they paid me. I was not motivated by money motives. I believed in what I was trying to do, and I wanted to see it brought about. I canceled that contract without a moment's hesitation." Thus did Mr. Schwab explain his action to me. There was a sequel. Morgan later told Carnegie how magnanimously Schwab had acted. Carnegie remarked, "Charles is the only man I know who would have done that." And he promptly sent Schwab in bonds the full amount of the contract. Carnegie declared publicly, "I owe my fortune chiefly to two men, Bill Jones and Charles Schwab." Schwab, let me add, for years picked all the Carnegie partners. Corey was a laborer when the eagle-eyed Schwab first spotted and promoted him. The only man to whom the canny Scot ever gave carte blanche was Schwab.—B. C. Forbes in Leslie's Weekly.

DELEGATES TO ROAD CONVENTION

Officers of the Fargo-Duluth Highway Association and Trustees to be Here Today

THE ROSTER IS GIVEN OUT

Crow Wing County Will be Well Represented at the "Black Diamond Trail" Meeting

The "Black Diamond Trail" meeting in Brainerd today will be largely attended by the best road boosters in the country. Trustees, officers and friends of the association will meet at the Chamber of Commerce, the session starting in the afternoon shortly after the Staples train arrives with the delegation from the west.

HENRY I. COHEN
President of the Fargo-Duluth Highway Association

The board of trustees embraces one from each county traversed by the "Black Diamond Trail," and the officers of the association. The trustees are:

- Aitkin—Peter Larson, Aitkin.
- Becker—L. W. Oberhauser, Frazee.
- Cass—M. M. McNair, Pillsbury.
- Carlton—Mr. Ruckles, Cloquet.
- Clay—Leslie Welter, Moorhead.
- Crow Wing—Judge Clifton A. Albright, Brainerd.
- Morrison—Sherman W. Jacobs, Moleky.
- Other Tails—E. T. Olson, New York Mills.
- St. Louis—Dr. J. B. Parks, Duluth.
- Todd—C. L. Corpening, Staples.
- Wadena—L. D. Frazier, Verndale.
- Cass County, N. D.—Herbert L. Loomis, Fargo, N. D.

The officers are President Henry I. Cohen, Brainerd; vice president, J. T. Hardy, Fargo, N. D.; second vice president, F. D. Vibert, Cloquet; secretary-treasurer, John Dower, Wadena.

Crow Wing county will be well represented at the directors' meeting. President Henry I. Cohen has pledged that Deerwood will be represented by H. J. Ernster and Harry Benson of the Deerwood Commercial club; Crosby by Attorney P. A. Lindbergh, A. O. Rabideau and Will S. Pitt; Ironton by A. H. Proctor and Primus J. Kreiter. The trail through Crow Wing county will lead through Deerwood, Crosby, Ironton, Riverton to Brainerd. Plans and reports will be brought on this route.

Duluth—W. W. Crawford, secretary Duluth Automobile Club.
Wadena—John Dower, W. E. Verity.
Aitkin—Dr. D. C. Kelly, Peter Larson, F. E. Krech, T. R. Foley, Cloquet—Fred Vibert, W. K. McNair.
Verndale—C. M. Hastings, L. D. Frazier.
Frazee—L. W. Oberhauser.
Staples—C. L. Corpening.

The examination of fairly accurate records has convinced scientists that there has been no appreciable change in the climate or northern Europe in 1,800 years.

WELCOME TO BRAINERD

Officers and Directors of the Duluth-Fargo Black Diamond Trail Association.

It affords me great pleasure to welcome you to our city. Your presence here is evidence of your interest in this laudable movement for good roads. The impulse given in the formation of such an association as ours is a great step forward in the development of the country. Everybody realizes now that a seemingly impossible thing has been accomplished. It is only a few years back that it was considered impractical to travel from Duluth to Brainerd overland. Now it is a fact.

With the moral support, the co-operation and backing of this association, the trail from Duluth, running through the different counties to Brainerd and from Brainerd on through the various communities along the line of the trail to Fargo, the western terminus, there will be a broad travelled highway, eventually. This unity of purpose must bring good results. The men who have been chosen directors of the association are well known for their enterprise and interest in good roads as well as other civic developments in their communities.

I am sure our citizens will show their appreciation of your presence here. Crow Wing county will do its share of the work to be mapped out.

HENRY I. COHEN,
President Fargo-Duluth Highway Association
President Brainerd Chamber of Commerce.

construction of good roads from Staples to Fargo. This section of the line will be in good shape early next spring. The good roads boosters at Brainerd seem to have confidence in their ability to bring about good results between Staples and Brainerd. This leaves Aitkin county as the last link which it is necessary to forge to get a line through highway.

"At the meeting in Brainerd we hope to get a definite line on Aitkin county. What will be done cannot be anticipated. We hope for the best.

"The proposed new highway will cross the proposed Scenic Highway at Brainerd and will again intersect it and become a part of it at the western end between Perham and Moorhead. At Staples the Duluth-Fargo line will strike the Jefferson Highway and leave it again at Wadena. From Duluth southwest to the Aitkin county line we will have a splendid road, already constructed. Between Brainerd and Crosby we have another built road as fine as could be wished.

"The meeting today will have to consider many subjects. The location of the route in detail will be considered. The question of raising funds and the method of collection and assessment will be settled. Committees will be appointed to draw up a constitution and by laws.

"As to the benefits which the highway will confer upon the communities affected, any resident along the route is qualified to speak and knows the advantages."

The Dover strait is only twenty-one miles wide at Calais, which city has been connected with Dover by cable since 1871.

NEW AITKIN TRUSTEE

J. B. Galarneau and C. H. Warner Unable to Attend, Former Mayor Peter Larson Named

J. B. Galarneau, of Aitkin, first named as trustee of Aitkin county of the Fargo-Duluth Highway Association, was unable to attend and President Henry I. Cohen named Representative Charles H. Warner. The latter is heart and soul in the good roads movement, in favor of the highway and working for it. He is also secretary of the Aitkin county fair, in full swing today and could not attend the Brainerd meeting.

He recommended Peter Larson and President Cohen accepted him. Mr. Larson is a former mayor of Aitkin and for twenty years was register of deeds of Aitkin county and so is well versed in the needs and the road conditions of his home county. Editor Freeman E. Krech, of the "Aitkin Independent Age" will also attend the meeting.

And Mr. Larson, by the way, is also member of the Crow Wing-Aitkin counties joint sanatorium commission.

Popular Spirit in Italy

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Rome, July 4 (By Mail).—The manner in which the people of Italy celebrated the first anniversary of the war recently offers the best impression of Italy's spirit.

The event was everywhere celebrated with splendid shows of patriotic enthusiasm. The capital and other Italian cities made holidays to observe the occasion most fittingly.

The Roman Corso staged a shouting, singing and gesticulating procession of almost 200,000 people.

The populace, the military and governmental and civic officialdom took part. Flag-bearing women and children mixed with the men and boys in the long march from the Piazza del Popolo to the Piazza Venezia.

Broken veterans of 1870 in their tattered but treasured Garibaldian uniforms tolled along with the marchers.

Countless bands, all really musical, played the stirring martial music of Italy and her allies. The buildings, which alighted the route, were gay with banners of England and France and the Italian tri-color.

The moment of the celebration made it the more remarkably significant. The Austrians had just begun their fierce offensive in the Trentino. They had even been successful in their initial movements. Their greater strength in cannon and the favoring topography of the battlefield had been responsible.

Rome, like the rest of Italy, was full of wild and generally exaggerated rumors. The gossip, usually calculated to dishearten a people, was current.

Stories of enemy advances and alleged traitors in Italy's own camp, of alleged captures or annihilation of important generals and regiments were on many tongues. Nothing, however, could dispirit the courageous people.

"Temporary reverses" only hardened their determination to win and whipped their pride to greater efforts. Therefore they celebrated the anniversary by flinging into the face of the enemy not a decreasing, but an increasing enthusiasm for war.

Much credit is due the country's women of the people. They responded nobly to the general call for self-sacrifice. Girls replaced the male conductors on the street cars and the male sweepers of the streets.

In great measure the fields began to be tilled and the crops gathered by women. Other feminine substitutes, permitting able-bodied men to train for war, were employed.

Even society gave up its money and its pleasures.

Red Cross hospitals and war relief stations were established and volunteer workers gathered by the thousands.

Italian womanhood, which for years had been crying for industrial recognition, at last was recognized. Ardent suffragettes rejoiced and stored away arguments for future use.

The "civil organization" included an entire system of organized activities. Girls who formerly flittered away their time on teas and parties, were impelled to patriotic pursuits. Others who had been too closely sheltered by old-fashioned parental care, followed their example.

The poorer classes rivalled both in their devotion to duty.

Italian maidenhood abandoned its lazy, dreamlike existence for a life of feverish activity.

Quickly but carefully trained nurses tended the wounded warriors at the town and city hospitals. Some of these were private villas donated to the Red Cross or the government by private philanthropies or individuals. Others were seminaries for priests, loaned by the Pope.

Educational and food centres for the relief of the families of soldiers were opened. All kinds of assistance was given to the needy families of men at the front. Special care of the children of the fighters and women about to become mothers was exercised. Employment was found for those who needed it. The home manufacture of military clothing was encouraged and aided.

Princess Doria offered a large part of her palace for use as a laboratory. Princess Alys Borghese established an economical kitchen in her private property and took charge of it. So many as 162,666 meals have been served there in a single month.

Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, wife of the American ambassador to Italy co-operated in these wartime works of mercy. Other residents of the American colony in the Italian kingdom lent willing hands.

Many have sought the ambulance in the very field of battle. Some temporarily have become Sisters of Mercy to facilitate the step.

Others signed official documents, which have often become their

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs kidneys, then back hurts and bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have headache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

He tore it up.

That contract had netted Schwab $1,200,000 the previous year.

"I didn't care what salary they paid me. I was not animated by money motives. I believed in what I was trying to do, and I wanted to see it brought about. I wanted that contract without a moment's hesitation." Thus did Mr. Schwab explain his action to me.

There was a sequel. Morgan later told Carnegie how magnanimously Schwab had acted. Carnegie remarked, "Charles is the only man I know who would have done that."

And he promptly sent Schwab in bonds the full amount of the contract. Carnegie declared publicly, "I owe my fortune chiefly to two men, Bill Jones and Charles Schwab."

Schwab, let me add, for years picked all the Carnegie partners. Corey was a laborer when the eagle-eyed Schwab first spotted and promoted him. The only man to whom the canny Scot ever gave carte blanche was Schwab.—B. C. Forbes in Leslie's Weekly.

DELEGATES TO ROAD CONVENTION

Officers of the Fargo-Duluth Highway Association and Trustees to be Here Today

THE ROSTER IS GIVEN OUT

Crow Wing County Will be Well Represented at the "Black Diamond Trail" Meeting

The "Black Diamond Trail" meeting in Brainerd today will be largely attended by the best road boosters in the country. Trustees, officers and friends of the association will meet at the Chamber of Commerce, the session starting in the afternoon shortly after the Staples train arrives with the delegation from the west.

HENRY I. COHEN
 President of the Fargo-Duluth Highway Association

The board of trustees embraces one from each county traversed by the "Black Diamond Trail," and the officers of the association. The trustees are:

Aitkin—Peter Larson, Aitkin.
 Becker—L. W. Oberhauser, Frazee.
 Cass—M. M. McNair, Pillager.
 Carlton—Mr. Ruckles, Cloquet.
 Clay—Leslie Welter, Moorhead.
 Crow Wing—Judge Clinton A. Allbright, Brainerd.
 Morrison—Sherman W. Jacobs, Motley.

Other Trail—E. T. Olson, New York Mills.
 St. Louis—Dr. J. B. Parks, Duluth.
 Todd—C. L. Corpening, Staples.
 Wadena—L. D. Frazier, Verndale.
 Cass County, N. D.—Herbert L. Loomis, Fargo, N. D.

The officers are President Henry I. Cohen, Brainerd; vice president, J. T. Hardy, Fargo, N. D.; second vice president, F. D. Vibert, Cloquet; secretary-treasurer, John Dower, Wadena.

Crow Wing county will be well represented at the directors' meeting. President Henry I. Cohen has pledged that Deerwood will be represented by H. J. Ernster and Harry Benson of the Deerwood Commercial club; Crosby by Attorney F. A. Lindbergh, A. O. Rabideau and Will S. Pitt; Ironton by A. H. Proctor and Primus D. Krellter. The trail through Crow Wing county will lead through Deerwood, Crosby, Ironton, Riverport to Brainerd. Plans and reports will be brought on this route.

AT THE CONVENTION

Cloquet—Fred Vibert, W. K. McNair.

Verndale—C. M. Hastings, L. D. Frazier.

Frazee—L. W. Oberhauser.

Staples—C. L. Corpening.

The examination of fairly accurate records has convinced scientists that there has been no appreciable change in the climate or northern Europe in 1800 years.

WELCOME TO BRAINERD

Officers and Directors of the Duluth-Fargo Black Diamond Trail Association.

It affords me great pleasure to welcome you to our city. Your presence here is evidence of your interest in this laudable movement for good roads. The impulse given in the formation of such an association as ours is a great step forward in the development of the country. Everybody realizes now that a seemingly impossible thing has been accomplished. It is only a few years back that it was considered impractical to travel from Duluth to Brainerd overland. Now it is a fact.

With the moral support, the co-operation and backing of this association, the trail from Duluth, running through the different counties to Brainerd and from Brainerd on through the various communities along the line of the trail to Fargo, the western terminus, there will be a broad travelled highway, eventually. This unity of purpose must bring good results. The men who have been chosen directors of the association are well known for their enterprise and interest in good roads as well as other civic developments in their communities.

I am sure our citizens will show their appreciation of your presence here. Crow Wing county will do its share of the work to be mapped out.

HENRY I. COHEN.

 President Brainerd Chamber of Commerce.

construction of good roads from Staples to Fargo. This section of the line will be in good shape early next spring. The good roads boosters at Brainerd seem to have confidence in their ability to bring about good results between Staples and Brainerd. This leaves Aitkin county as the last link which it is necessary to forge to get a fine through highway.

"At the meeting in Brainerd we hope to get a definite line on Aitkin county. What will be done cannot be anticipated. We hope for the best.

"The proposed new highway will cross the proposed Scenic Highway at Brainerd and will again intersect it and become a part of it at the western end between Perham and Moorhead. At Staples the Duluth-Fargo line will strike the Jefferson Highway and leave it again at Wadena. From Duluth southwest to the Aitkin county line we will have a splendid road, already constructed. Between Brainerd and Crosby we have another built road as fine as could be wished.

"The meeting today will have to consider many subjects. The location of the route in detail will be considered. The question of raising funds and the method of collection and assessment will be settled. Committees will be appointed to draw up a constitution and by laws.

"As to the benefits which the highway will confer upon the communities affected, any resident along the route is qualified to speak and knows the advantages."

The Dover trail is only twenty-one miles wide at Duluth, which city has been connected with Dover by cable since 1901.

J. B. Galarneau and C. H. Warner Unable to Attend, Former Mayor Peter Larson Named

J. B. Galarneau, of Aitkin, first named as trustee of Aitkin county of the Fargo-Duluth Highway Association, was unable to attend and President Henry I. Cohen named Representative Charles H. Warner. The latter is heart and soul in the good roads movement. In favor of the highway and working for it. He is also secretary of the Aitkin county fair, in full swing today and could not attend the Brainerd meeting.

He recommended Peter Larson and President Cohen accepted him. Mr. Larson is a former mayor of Aitkin and for twenty years was register of deeds of Aitkin county and so is well versed in the needs and the road conditions of his home county. Editor Freeman E. Kreech, of the "Aitkin Independent Age" will also attend the meeting.

And Mr. Larson, by the way, is also member of the Crow Wing-Aitkin counties joint sanatorium commission.

Popular Spirit in Italy

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Rome, July 4 (By Mail).—The manner in which the people of Italy celebrated the first anniversary of the war recently offers the best impression of Italy's spirit.

The event was everywhere celebrated with splendid shows of patriotic enthusiasm. The capital and other Italian cities made holidays to observe the occasion most fittingly.

The Roman Corso staged a shouting, singing and gesticulating procession of almost 200,000 people.

The populace, the military and governmental and civic officialdom took part. Flag-bearing women and children mixed with the men and boys in the long march from the Piazza del Popolo to the Piazza Venezia.

Broken veterans of 1870 in their tattered but treasured Garibaldian uniforms tolled along with the marchers.

Countless bands, all really musical, played the stirring martial music of Italy and her allies. The buildings, which aisled the route, were gay with banners of England and France and the Italian tri-color.

The moment of the celebration made it the more remarkably significant. The Austrians had just begun their fierce offensive in the Trentino. They had even been successful in their initial movements. Their greater strength in cannon and the favoring topography of the battleground had been responsible.

Rome, like the rest of Italy, was full of wild and generally exaggerated rumors. The gossip, usually calculated to dishearten a people, was current.

Stories of enemy advances and alleged traitors in Italy's own camp, of alleged captures or annihilation of important generals and regiments were on many tongues. Nothing, however, could dispirit the courageous people.

"Temporary reverses" only hardened their determination to win and whipped their pride to greater efforts. Therefore they celebrated the anniversary by flinging into the face of the enemy not a decreasing, but an increasing enthusiasm for war.

Much credit is due the country's women of the people. They responded nobly to the general call for self-sacrifice. Girls replaced the male conductors on the street cars and the male sweepers of the streets.

In great measure the fields began to be tilled and the crops gathered by women. Other feminine substitutes, permitting able-bodied men to train for war, were employed.

Even society gave up its money and its pleasures.

Red Cross hospitals and war relief stations were established and volunteer workers gathered by the thousands.

Italian womanhood, which for years had been crying for industrial recognition, at last was recognized. Ardent suffragettes rejoiced and stored away arguments for future use.

The "civil organization" included an entire system of organized activities. Girls who formerly flitted away their time on teas and parties, were impelled to patriotic pursuits. Others who had been too closely sheltered by old-fashioned parental care, followed their example.

The poorer classes rivaled both in their devotion to duty.

Italian maidenhood abandoned its lazy, dreamlike existence for a life of feverish activity. Quickly but carefully trained nurses tended the wounded warriors at the town and city hospitals. Some of these were private villas donated to the Red Cross or the government by private philanthropies or individuals. Others were seminaries for priests, loaned by the Pope.

Educational and food centres for the relief of the families of soldiers were opened. All kinds of assistance was given to the needy families of men at the front. Special care of the children of the fighters and women about to become mothers was exercised. Employment was found for those who needed it. The home manufacture of military clothing was encouraged and aided.

Princess Doria offered a large part of her palace for use as a laboratory. Princess Alys Borghese established an economical kitchen in her private property and took charge of it. So many as 162,666 meals have been served there in a single month.

Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, wife of the American ambassador to Italy co-operated in these wartime works of mercy. Other residents of the American colony in the Italian kingdom lent willing hands.

Many have sought the ambulance in the very field of battle. Some temporarily have become Sisters of Mercy to facilitate the step.

Others signed official documents, which have often become their

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

HOW TO GET LIGHT IN CITY RIGHT AWAY

Con O'Brien Solves the Problem by Offering to Start Fund of Contributions for Same

HEADS LIST WITH $10 MONTH

$70 A Month Will Pay for Lighting
Ornamental Posts, $300 a Month
Average for Arcs and All

"Why don't the Dispatch do something to get street lights in town,"
said Con O'Brien this morning.

"Why don't you get up a fund,
each public spirited citizen to pay so
much a month towards keeping street
lights on duty. I'm willing to start it by giving $10 a month during the winter months anyway."

The reporter thought it a good
plan. Why not get enough money to turn on the lights. Last night he fell over a shadow and nearly broke his neck. It's worth considerable to have a town illuminated. Brainerd
has been advertised all over creation
as being a dark town.

$70 a month will keep the ornamental lamp posts turned on.

$300 a month, on the average, will keep arcs, ornamental posts,
public building lights turned on.
Let's get started.

The list of contributors to Brainerd's
light fund will be run continuously. The list is a "light" one at the start, but more will join. Make checks payable "Brainerd Dispatch,"
for street lighting, and they will be turned over to the water and light
board and put in a special ledger account. Join the list, any amount accepted. List follows of those to pay monthly:

Con O'Brien	$10.00
John A. Hoffbauer	1.00
John Cochran	2.00
J. P. McGill	1.00

DEMOCRATS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Democratic County Organization Day

at the Court House

CALL BY FRED E. WHEATON

To Organize Permanent Democratic County Committee, Executive Committee, Etc.

Wednesday, September 20, has been set as "Democratic County Organization Day," by order of the Democratic state central committee,
of which Fred E. Wheaton is chairman and Fred Schlipf, of St. Cloud, secretary.

"Get together, work together and
win together" and "Minnesota for Wilson" are to be the battle cries railying the untried.

In his proclamation Chairman
Wheaton says:

"A call hereby is issued to the Democrats of each county in Minnesota to assemble in mass convention
at the county seat in their respective counties on Wednesday, September 20, 1916, for the purpose of organizing a permanent Democratic county
committee, electing a permanent
chairman, vice chairman, secretary
and treasurer, also an executive committee and a precinct committeeman
for each voting district within the county.

"The county member of the state
central committee (or in his absence
the chairman of the retiring county
committee) will preside at the mass
convention, following which he will forward report immediately to the chairman of the state central committee."

The meeting is called for 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the court house.

Classy Bunch for the Wolverine Eleven

(By United Press)

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 19.—From
the classiest looking bunch of candidates assembled here since the days
of Craig, Pontius and other heroes of
the last Wolverine championship
eleven, Coach Fielding H. Yost today
is beginning to pick a team to uphold
Michigan's honor on the gridiron.

The few veterans who return, stars
in their respective positions, have been augmented by as fine a class of youngsters as ever responded to the call for early training.

To the usually important question
of how many "M" men are available
for the team, little significance attaches this year. Last year's eleven
was not a howling success and consequently, when Yost lost eight of his fifteen veterans the team's enthusiasm viewed the fact with scarcely
a murmur of complaint.

The Yost offense of course will
center around Captain Maulbetsch,
all-American half back. Working
with him in the backfield will be Pat
Smith, fullback, who has developed
ground gaining ability second only
to "Mauley" himself.

A quarter and one half back must
be developed from the new material.
Ziegler is trying for the quarterback
job, and Raymond and Sharpe, 1915
subs, for the position as Maulbetsch's
running mate.

The line will present even more of a problem than the back field. The center position will go to Niemann,
a veteran, but selections for the remaining places are in doubt.

Weske, Rehor and Boyd are eligible for line jobs where they subbed
last year. Whalen and Dunne apparently have first call for the end posts.

Michigan's perfectly balanced
schedule this year opens on October
4, when Marietta will oppose the Wolverine men. The other games
are: Oct. 7, Case school; 11, Carroll
college; 14, Mt. Union college; 21,
Michigan Aggies; 28, Syracuse university; November 4, Washington
university; 11, Cornell; 18, Pennsylvania. With the exception of the Cornell game, which will be played at Ithaca, all games are to be played on the home lot.

PETITION FOR LATERAL SEWER

Defective Bridges to be Repaired—
Water and Light Board Writes
Note to Council

All members of the council were at the meeting Monday evening.

Aldermen Smith and Betzold, on motion carried, moved to collect $1
per day for meals and lodging at the city jail for federal and county prisoners.

A communication from the water
and light board on the subject of
current for street lighting was read
and ordered filed, on motion by Aldermen Anderson and Koop. This referred to some $12,000 due the
board by the city for light, water,
material and labor.

H. Turcotte applied for permission to connect a private sewer with
the manhole at the intersection of Fifth and Quince streets. On motion of Aldermen Koop and Anderson
the request was granted.

A petition from the Standard Oil company of Minneapolis, to erect a warehouse on parts of lots 10, 11 and 12, block 17, in the original town of Brainerd, was read and on motion of Aldermen Anderson and Koop the same was granted subject to the approval of the city engineer.

A communication from State Auditor Preus to the county auditor
and by him referred to the council
on the application for aid by Senie
Marsyla was read, and on motion by Aldermen Anderson and Haake was referred to the Associated Charities.

A petition for a lateral sewer on Gillis avenue, East Brainerd, was read and on motion by Aldermen
Haake and Anderson to refer the same to the city engineer and the sewer committee, the motion was carried.

H. F. Michael, representing the
First Methodist church, presented
plans and specifications for the addition to and remodeling of their church edifice, the same having been approved by the city engineer, and
on motion by Aldermen Peterson and Anderson, duly carried, the plans
were accepted.

On motion by Aldermen Benson
and Turcotte, duly carried, Swan
Erickson was granted a permit to adjust his drainage pipe located in part
on a street in Southeast Brainerd,
the street to be left in an unimpaired
condition.

A communication from M. E. Hitch
on the subject of the destruction of
an ornamental lamp post located on the east side of South Sixth street
at Hagberg & Schaefer's meat market was read and on motion by Aldermen Morrison and Haake to advise
Mr. Hitch that the council looked to him to repair the damage, the motion carried.

In the matter of repairs to defective bridges, one at Rosewood street

Wit and Humor

The quality of wit exists wherever imagination permeates through the un-

depending upon various moral straits, exists only wherever a broad imaginaerant moral sense that is devoid of malice and all uncharitableness and at peace with all mankind. A petulant egotism may exist with wit, but never with humor. * * * Where there is no sense of incongruity there can be no sense of humor. That sense is man's expedient to make his mortality endur-able. The laughter of man is the con-

THEDA BARA IN "DESTRUCTION"

This Great Photo Play Will be at the Best Theatre Tomorrow Night

This photoplay, which was written by Nicola Daniels and directed by W. S. Davis, deals with the soul-consuming miseries of the workers exploited by a certain capitalist class. And yet the production is not depressing or anti-capital in its tone, for it is lightened by sub-comedy touches and it heralds the dawn of a greater spirit of conscientiousness between employer and employee.

"Destruction" is an educational photoplay; educational from the artisan's viewpoint as well as from that of the student of economics.
Were it not for the dramatic story woven throughout its many scenes, it might pass for one of the greatest of industrial films, for much of its action takes place in one of the large steel mills in the country. The blending of the industrial and the narrative sides of the picture, however, is exceptionally well done and neither suffers thereby.

The story has to do primarily with Ferdinande (Theda Bara); Charles
Froment, prosperous mill owner;
Jack Froment, his son; Josine, wife of one of the millhands. Froment and Ferdinande are members of a hunting party in the Adirondacks.
Ferdinande, a captivating young creature whose god is gold, perceives
the mill owner's admiration for her.
By every wile within her power she lures him on until he makes open declaration of love. They are married and return to Froment's magnificent home.

Jack Froment, informed by wire of his father's marriage, hastens home from college and warns his father of Ferdinande's true character.
The parent much as he worships his son, refuses to believe the latter's assertions. Ferdinande, who has overheard the conversation between Froment and Jack sets out to discredit Jack in the eyes of his father.
The son leaves home.

In time Ferdinande's inroads upon the Froment fortune are such that the mill owner frankly explains to Ferdinande his inability to surmount such heavy outlays. Ferdinande, who has entangled Delaveau, manager of the mills, in her meshes, realizes that only by a general reduction in the wages of the mill employees can she still live in the luxury to which she has accustomed herself. She brings pressure to bear on Delaveau and he

WHY THE BEST OF CHEWS IS "SPEAR HEAD"

Its Rich, Sweet, Mellow Flavor Has Been Famous for a Generation

MADE OF CHOICEST RED BURLEY

The secret of tobacco satisfaction is known only to the man who chews plug tobacco. The reason is that a good chew gets right next to your taste, while the leaf in plug tobacco is in a state of fresh, juicy richness that is not possible in any other form of tobacco.
There's no tobacco in the world that can give you the hearty, wholesome flavor that you get from a delicious chew of Spear Head.

Spear Head is made exclusively of ripe, red Kentucky Burley—the most richly-flavored chewing tobacco that grows. Still more, only the very choicest red Burley leaf is used for Spear Head.

This choice leaf is selected with the most painstaking care, is stemmed by hand, is thoroughly washed free of all foreign matter, and is pressed into Spear Head plugs so slowly that not a drop of juice or an atom of the natural flavor escapes.

Try Spear Head and you'll get a sweet, mellow, luscious, satisfying chew that cannot be obtained in any other tobacco. Buy a 5c or 10c cut to-day.

HOW TO GET LIGHT IN CITY RIGHT AWAY

Offering to Start Fund of Con-

$70 A Month Will Pay for Lighting
Average for Arcs and All

"Why don't the Dispatch do something to get street lights in town,"
said Con O'Brien this morning.

"Why don't you get up a fund,
each public spirited citizen to pay so
much a month towards keeping street
lights on duty. I'm willing to start
it by giving $10 a month during the winter months anyway."

The reporter thought it a good
plan. Why not get enough money
to turn on the lights. Last night he fell over a shadow and nearly broke
his neck. It's worth considerable to have a town illuminated. Brainerd
has been advertised all over creation
as being a dark town.

$70 a month will keep the ornamental lamp posts turned on.

$300 a month, on the average, will
keep arc lights, ornamental posts,
public building lights turned on.
Let's get started.

The list of contributors to Brainerd's
light fund will be run continuously. The list is a "light" one at the start, but more will join. Make checks payable "Brainerd Dispatch,"
for street lighting, and they will be turned over to the water and light
board and put in a special ledger account. Join the list, any amount ac-

Democratic County Organization Day
is Set for September 20. Meet
at the Court House

To Organize Permanent Democratic
County Committee, Executive Committee, Etc.

Wednesday, September 20, has been set as "Democratic County Organization Day," by order of the Democratic state central committee,
of which Fred E. Wheaton is chairman and Fred Schlipplin, of St. Cloud,
secretary.

"Get together, work together and
win together" and "Minnesota for Wilson" are to be the battle cries rallying the untried.

In his proclamation Chairman
Wheaton says:

"A call hereby is issued to the Democrats of each county in Minnesota to assemble in mass convention
at the county seat in their respective
counties on Wednesday, September
20, 1916, for the purpose of organizing a permanent Democratic county
committee, electing a permanent
chairman, vice chairman, secretary
and treasurer, also an executive committee and a precinct committeeman
for each voting district within the county.

"The county member of the state
central committee (or in his absence
the chairman of the retiring county
committee) will preside at the mass
convention, following which he will forward report immediately to the chairman of the state central committee."

The meeting is called for 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the court house.

Classy Bunch for the Wolverine Eleven

(By United Press)

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 19.—From
the classiest looking bunch of candidates assembled here since the days
of Craig, Pontius and other heroes of
eleven, Coach Fielding H. Yost today
is beginning to pick a team to uphold
Michigan's honor on the gridiron.

in their respective positions, have
been augmented by as fine a class of
youngsters as ever responded to the
call for early training.

To the usually important question
for the team, little significance attaches this year. Last year's eleven
was not a howling success and consequently, when Yost lost eight of his
fifteen veterans the team's enthusiasm viewed the fact with scarcely
a murmur of complaint.

The Yost offense of course will
center around Captain Maulbetsch,
all-American half back. Working
with him in the backfield will be Pat
Smith, fullback, who has developed
ground gaining ability second only
to "Mauley" himself.

A quarter and one half back must
be developed from the new material
Ziegler is trying for the quarterback
job, and Raymond and Sharpe, 1915
subs, for the position as Maulbetsch's
running mate.

The line will present even more of
a problem than the back field. The
center position will go to Niemann,
a veteran, but selections for the remaining places are in doubt.

Weeks, Reher and Boyd are eligible for line jobs where they subbed
last year. Whalen and Dunne apparently have first call for the end places.

Michigan's perfectly balanced
schedule this year opens on October
4, when Marietta will oppose the Wolverine men. The other games
are: Oct. 7, Case school; 11, Carroll
college; 14, Mt. Union college; 21,
Michigan Aggies; 28, Syracuse university; November 4, Washington
university; 11, Cornell; 18, Pennsylvania. With the exception of the Cornell game, which will be played at Ithaca, all games are to
be played on the home lot.

Defective Bridges to be Repaired—
Note to Council

All members of the council were at

Aldermen Smith and Betzold, on
motion carried, moved to collect $1
per day for meals and lodging at the
city jail for federal and county prisoners.

A communication from the water
and light board on the subject of
current for street lighting was read
dermen Anderson and Koop. This
referred to some $12,000 due the
board by the city for light, water,
material and labor.

H. Turcotte applied for permission to connect a private sewer with
the manhole at the intersection of Fifth and Quince streets. On motion of Aldermen Koop and Anderson
the request was granted.

A petition from the Standard Oil
company of Minneapolis, to erect a warehouse on parts of lots 10, 11 and 12, block 17, in the original town of Brainerd, was read and on motion of Aldermen Anderson and Koop the
same was granted subject to the approval of the city engineer.

A communication from State Auditor Preus to the county auditor
and by him referred to the council
on the application for aid by Senie
Marsyla was read, and on motion by Aldermen Anderson and Haake was
referred to the Associated Charities.

A petition for a lateral sewer on Gillis avenue, East Brainerd, was
read and on motion by Aldermen
Haake and Anderson to refer the
same to the city engineer and the
sewer committee, the motion was carried.

H. F. Michael, representing the
First Methodist church, presented
plans and specifications for the addition to and remodeling of their church edifice, the same having been
approved by the city engineer, and
on motion by Aldermen Peterson and Anderson, duly carried, the plans
were accepted.

On motion by Aldermen Benson
and Turcotte, duly carried, Swan
Erickson was granted a permit to ad-
just his drainage pipe located in part
on a street in Southeast Brainerd,
the street to be left in an unimpaired
condition.

A communication from M. E. Hitch
on the subject of the destruction of
an ornamental lamp post located on
the east side of South Sixth street
at Hagberg & Schaefer's meat market was read and on motion by Aldermen Morrison and Haake to advise
Mr. Hitch that the council looked to him to repair the damage, the motion carried.

In the matter of repairs to defective bridges, one at Rosewood street
in Southeast Brainerd and one in the Mill district, Northeast Brainerd,
the same was on motion by Aldermen Anderson and Haake duly carried after being referred to the street committee.

Josine is taken to the Froment

Authorities Hope to Shield Victims of Plotters.

U. S. AGENTS HUNT LEADER

Alleged Love Pirates Face Charges by Department of Justice of Preying Upon Society Folk—Victims Veiled From Publicity.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—While federal authorities here prepared to arraign for preliminary hearing seven members of an alleged blackmail gang who used the Mann act as their chief weapon, detectives, fortified with information obtained from two alleged members of the gang who confessed, made arrests in other cities and spread a dragnet for H. C. Woodward, sought as director-in-chief of the syndicate.

Not to Bare Victims.

Hinton G. Clabaugh of the United States department of justice declared he had obtained sufficient evidence to convict the gang without exposing the names of any of their wealthy men whose flirtations with pretty women led them into traps from which they escaped only on payment of large sums, will be shielded from publicity, except as a last resort, it is said.

The evidence obtained in two cases already generally known, authorities said, together with a mass of incriminating evidence found in the raid on the apartment where the seven were arrested, will be presented to a federal commissioner. Clabaugh expects the seven will be ordered removed to Philadelphia for trial.

Two More Arrested.

Developments in the case reported to Clabaugh included the arrest at New York of Frank Croker, alleged former member of the bang, who is said to have confessed to a part in the swindling of Mrs. Regina Klipper of Philadelphia, and the arrest at Philadelphia of William Butler, held there in connection with an alleged blackmail plot against the late Mrs. Susan G. S. Winpenny.

The alleged fleeing of Mrs. Klipper, authorities charged, was brought about through Croker, who, it is said, won her confidence. A compromising situation was brought about, it is alleged, and Donohue and Irwin, as witnesses, demanded blackmail.

How Gang Was Caught.

A detailed statement as to the direct cause of the apprehension of the gang was made by an official of the department of justice. He said that Croker's confession to obtain immunity for a petty offense of larceny was the opening wedge in the wall of secrecy the alleged blackmailers had maintained about themselves.

Croker, the official said, was arrested early in the spring for theft of a diamond ring from a New York society woman at Tampa, Fla., and, realizing that the confession of a blackmail plot would overshadow a larceny offense, told his story.

This confession was obtained in March or April, but it was not until the Republican national convention here in June that the first member of the "syndicate" was arrested.

Famous Feudist Killed.

Hazard, Ky., Sept. 19.—Mose Feltner, famous feudist and moonshiner, it became known here, was shot and killed by a United States deputy marshal when he tried to escape while being brought here from his home in Leslie county. Feltner figured prominently in the Hargis-Cockerell feud, before Judge J. B. Marcus was assassinated at the courthouse door in Jackson more than ten years ago.

Missouri Jurist Is Dead.

Boonville, Mo., Sept. 19.—Judge William M. Williams, former judge of the Missouri supreme court and one of the state's leading attorneys, died suddenly at his home here. He was sixty-six years old.

Montana Coal Strike Settled.

Bear Creek, Mont., Sept. 19.—Coal miners here are back at work after a strike lasting a week, the trouble having been settled by a compromise. Difficulties arose over the terms of contract work.

MAJOR GENERAL MILLS.

Chief of Division of Militia Affairs Dies Very Suddenly.

IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Major General Albert L. Mills Dies After Brief Illness.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Major General Albert L. Mills, chief of the division of militia affairs, died at his home here after fifteen hours' illness from pneumonia.

General Mills was chief of the bureau of militia affairs, holder of the army medal of honor for bravery under fire, builder of the new West Point and former president of the army war college.

He worked out the mobilization plans for the state troops which operated during the Mexican border situation. He contended vigorously for increasing the efficiency of the national guard.

ALL STATE TROOPS MUST GO TO BORDER

Washington, Sept. 19.—General Funston was directed by the war department to return one national guard regiment to its home station for each new regiment of the guard sent to the border.

The Second New York infantry will be one of the first to return. Other regiments will be selected by General Funston.

The order was issued in line with Secretary Baker's policy of sending all organizations in state mobilization camps to the border before they are mustered out of the federal service.

The three North Carolina regiments, ordered south Saturday, together with those from Tennessee already on the way, will be the first to reach General Funston's command to relieve troops now there.

There are 18,000 guardsmen still in the state camps. These will move as rapidly as the necessary arrangements can be made.

It was indicated at the war department no general movement of guardsmen homeward would be ordered until a decision affecting the border situation had been reached by the American-Mexican commission, now meeting at New London, Conn. The department has submitted the final disposition of all border troops, national guard and regulars, to the commission.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS SUED

Colorado Springs Organization Is Asked to Pay $150,000 Damages.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 19.—Claims for damages for personal injuries approximating $150,000 in twenty-five suits were filed here in district court against the Colorado Springs Athletic club as a result of the collapse of two sections of the grand stand at the White-Welsh arena on Sept. 4.

Fall on Mountain Fatal.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 19.—Word reached here that J. A. Fritsch, a Salt Lake capitalist, injured Friday by a fall into a crevasse on Mount Ranier, is dead at Paradise valley, where he had been taken by others of the mountain-climbing party and their guides.

COURT OF APPEALS FINDS PLUMBERS GUILTY.

Denver, Sept. 19.—The decision of the federal district court of Iowa holding four members of the National Association of Master Plumbers guilty of violation of the Sherman anti-trust law has been upheld by the United States court of appeals now sitting in Denver.

LOCAL ISSUES A BIG FACTOR

National Questions in Background In Several States.

AS TO PARTY DIFFERENCES.

Unanimous Consent For Almost Everything During Closing Days of Session Shows That Party Lines Are Not Closely Drawn, Despite Display of Stage Politics.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The campaign managers are finding great difficulty in keeping local issues in several states from cutting a wider swath in the coming election than national questions. That is naturally the case when there is not so very much difference between the parties. If the lines are not sharply drawn in the nation it is almost certain that in the states local questions will cut more of a figure than those of a national character.

As an indication that party differences were not in evidence it is only necessary to revert to the closing days of the recent session when most everything was done by unanimous consent, and there was not even a roll call on the final conference report of the revenue bill, which had been discussed almost wholly on partisan lines.

Stage Politics Played.

But there was a lot of stage politics to enliven the closing hours. In both senate and house men on the opposite sides of the political aisle whanged away at each other with ferocity; they denounced the methods and policies of the opposing parties; criticized the leaders, and in every possible way converted over the political pastures as if they were in deadly earnest and in deadly opposition. The record was crammed with these party speeches, but, after all, the real feeling of party strife seemed to be lacking. There were no such party differences as seen in the days of long ago, when greater questions divided the parties than at present.

Criticized by Democrats.

The day congress adjourned the diplomatic part of the government was quite severely criticized by two Democratic senators. James Hamilton Lewis of Minnesota spoke at length in the senate and house men on the opposite sides of the political aisle whanged away at each other with ferocity; they denounced the methods and policies of the opposing parties; criticized the leaders, and in every possible way converted over the political pastures as if they were in deadly earnest and in deadly opposition. The record was crammed with these party speeches, but, after all, the real feeling of party strife seemed to be lacking. There were no such party differences as seen in the days of long ago, when greater questions divided the parties than at present.

The record was crammed with these party speeches, but, after all, the real feeling of party strife seemed to be lacking. There were no such party differences as seen in the days of long ago, when greater questions divided the parties than at present.

Bureaus and Commissions.

"I am tired of bureaucrats," Senator Sherman of Illinois told the senate one day when he was somewhat displeased with methods of the federal administration. Nearly every senator or representative who has much to do with the various bureaus has the same opinion, yet congress goes merrily on and creates more bureaucrats. In the first place commissions are created, and then these commissions become great bureaus of the government, taking over what has heretofore been done by the states or individuals.

Is He a Reactionary?

No doubt Senator Gallinger has been termed a reactionary many times, and yet he does not want anything strange in governmental affairs. During the last days of the session he was having a dispute with Senator Owen of Oklahoma, the latter denying that he was a socialist, as insinuated by Gallinger.

"You and I are wide apart," remarked Gallinger. "I am glad of it," asserted Owen. "So am I," replied Gallinger. "The senator is an 'uplifter,' and I am not. I want to see things go along in their normal and natural course."

Gave Kenyon a Chance.

Senator Ransdell of Louisiana gave Senator Kenyon a grand opportunity. Ransdell made a speech in which he criticized Kenyon and incidentally said it was because Iowa opposed rivers and harbors that caused her to lose population. Kenyon came right back and with the agricultural statistics he showed what a grand, glorious, productive state was Iowa. In fact, he placed Iowa well in the front rank in the galaxy of states. He pointed out that federal "pork" did not make prosperity.

Distributing Flowers.

The actual distribution of flowers is no longer permitted in congress, but Jim Mann makes up for it in handing bouquets to various individuals. The day the session ended he was particularly generous to the Democratic leaders. He praised Claude Kitchen as a great Democratic leader and sang poems for Champ Clark, the speaker. "What's the use of changing the house if all he says is true?" asked one of the Republicans who believe in fighting all the time. But that is Mann's way. He fights hard and then distributes the flowers.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN MILL CITY

Coroner Believed It Case of Double Murder and Suicide.

Minneapolis, Sept. 19.—When Helmer Egle returned home from work he smelled gas. Opening the door of his house he found his two sons, Gale, six years old, and Alias, three years old, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Mercy Hanford, seventy-five years old, asphyxiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Egle separated six months ago. At that time Mr. Egle was given the custody of the children and obtained Mrs. Hanford as housekeeper. The husband and wife had just decided to try living together again.

"Mrs. Hanford loved the children and she opposed our reconciliation," Mr. Egle said.

Coroner Charles A. Hobbs reported the case as "homicidal and suicidal." He placed a question mark after the word "suicidal."

Alleged Auto Thief on Trial.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Earl Dear, alleged ringleader of one of two groups of automobile thieves, was placed on trial here on a specific charge of having stolen a car belonging to Daniel T. Rose. Fifteen other persons, including Mrs. Alvina Stiles, a real estate operator, charged in indictments with connection with the "trust," have been granted separate trials.

GASTRIC REBELLION.

Some of the Mistakes in Eating That Incite Poor Digestion.

Indigestion is often attributed to hasty eating, and people are reproved, and rightly so, for bolting their food, but it is interesting to observe that, while the bolting of meat is always severely censured, one never hears any blame attached to those who swallow fruit by the mouthful and devour uncooked vegetables without any attempt at mastication. Nevertheless it is the hasty swallower of vegetable fiber who is really the inciter of gastric rebellion. Vegetables are at all times very imperfectly digested by the stomach and require their tough fibers to be thoroughly broken up by the teeth if they are to be dissolved even in the bowel.

There is a well known saying which avers that digestion waits upon appetite, and there is no doubt that of all the adjuncts to digestion a keen desire for food is the most powerful and important. But appetite itself often depends upon conditions which are independent of the body's absolute necessities. Thus the aspect of the food, its smell, taste and even the manner in which it is served all help either to stimulate a desire for it or to induce a sense of aversion, while the environment of the diner often exerts important influence, beneficial or otherwise.

Brain work of any kind interferes with the rapid digestion of food, and even the habit of reading during meal-times, practiced by so many, is conducive neither to appetite nor digestion. A well lighted room, music and frivolous conversation will often permit a chronic dyspeptic to enjoy without remorse the pleasures of the table, while a depressing atmosphere, un congenial company and unappetizing dishes may induce a fit of indigestion in the most healthy individual.—Food and Cookery.

CHARM OF THE BIBLE.

Its Poetic Beauty and the Marvel of Its Word Pictures.

Then some of us who cared for literature took up the Bible casually and found its poetic beauty. We read the book of Job—which, by the way, Mr. Swinburne is said to have known by heart—and as we read it even the stars themselves seemed less wonderful than this description of their marvel and mystery:

"Canst thou bid the sweet influences of Pleiades or loose the bands of Orion? Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in his season? Or canst thou guide Arcturus with his sons?"

Or we read in the thirty-seventh chapter of the book of Ezekiel of that weird valley that was full of bones—"and as I prophesied there was a noise, and behold a slinking, and the bones came together, bone to bone"—surely one of the most wonderful visions of the imagination in all literature.

Or we read the marvelous denunciations of Jeremiah and Isaiah or the music of the melodious heart-strings of King David. We read the solemn adjuration of the "King Ecclesiast" to remember our Creator in the days of our youth, with its haunting picture of old age, and the loveliness of "The Song of Songs" passed into our lives forever.

To this purely literary love of the Bible there has been added within the last few years a certain renewed regard for it as the profoundest book of the soul, and for some minds not conventionally religious it has regained even some of its old authority as a spiritual guide and stay. And I will confess for myself that sometimes as I fall asleep at night I wonder if even the most picturesque of modern writers has written anything to equal the Twenty-third Psalm—Richard Le Gallienne in Phoenix.

Worse Still.

"Did Mr. Jobless pay his bill?" "Yes, sir," answered the collector, "but he made a lot of fuss about it." "Um! Don't let that trouble you, son. It's the fellow who bellows and doesn't pay that we should worry about."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

BLACKMAILERS IN FEDERAL NET

Authorities Hope to Shield Victims of Plotters.

U. S. AGENTS HUNT LEADER

Alleged Love Pirates Face Charges by Department of Justice of Preying Upon Society Folk—Victims Veiled From Publicity.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—While federal authorities here prepared to arraign for preliminary hearing seven members of an alleged blackmail gang who used the Mann act as their chief weapon, detectives, fortified with information obtained from two alleged members of the gang who confessed, made arrests in other cities and spread a dragnet for H. Clabaugh expects the seven will be ordered removed to Philadelphia for trial.

Two More Arrested.

Developments in the case reported to Clabaugh included the arrest at New York of Frank Croker, alleged former member of the bang, who is said to have confessed to a part in the swindling of Mrs. Regina Klipper of Philadelphia, and the arrest at Philadelphia of William Butler, held there in connection with an alleged blackmail plot against the late Mrs. Susan G. S. Winpenny.

The alleged fleeing of Mrs. Klipper, authorities charged, was brought about through Croker, who, it is said, won her confidence. A compromising situation was brought about, it is alleged, and Donohue and Irwin, as witnesses, demanded blackmail.

How Gang Was Caught.

A detailed statement as to the direct cause of the apprehension of the gang was made by an official of the department of justice. He said that Croker's confession to obtain immunity for a petty offense of larceny was the opening wedge in the wall of secrecy the alleged blackmailers had maintained about themselves.

Croker the official said, was arrested early in the spring for theft of a diamond ring from a New York society woman at Tampa, Fla., and, realizing that the confession of a blackmail plot would overshadow a larceny offense, told his story.

This confession was obtained in March or April, but it was not until the Republican national convention here in June that the first member of the "syndicate" was arrested.

Famous Feudist Killed.

Hazard, Ky., Sept. 19.—Mose Feltner, famous feudist and moonshiner, it became known here, was shot and killed by a United States deputy marshal when he tried to escape while being brought here from his home in Leslie county. Feltner figured prominently in the Hargis-Cockerell feud, before Judge J. B. Marcum was assassinated at the courthouse door in Jackson more than ten years ago.

Missouri Jurist Is Dead.

Boonville, Mo., Sept. 19.—Judge William M. Williams, former judge of the Missouri supreme court and one of the state's leading attorneys, died suddenly at his home here. He was sixty-six years old.

Montana Coal Strike Settled.

Major General Albert L. Mills Dies After Brief Illness.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Major General Albert L. Mills, chief of the division of militia affairs, died at his home here after fifteen hours' illness from pneumonia.

General Mills was chief of the bureau of militia affairs, holder of the army medal of honor for bravery under fire, builder of the new West Point and former president of the army war college.

He worked out the mobilization plans for the state troops which operated during the Mexican border situation. He contended vigorously for increasing the efficiency of the national guard.

ALL STATE TROOPS MUST GO TO BORDER

Washington, Sept. 19.—General Funston was directed by the war department to return one national guard regiment to its home station for each new regiment of the guard sent to the border.

The Second New York Infantry will be one of the first to return. Other regiments will be selected by General Funston.

The order was issued in line with Secretary Baker's policy of sending all organizations in state mobilization camps to the border before they are mustered out of the federal service.

The three North Carolina regiments, ordered south Saturday, together with those from Tennessee already on the way, will be the first to reach General Funston's command to relieve troops now there.

There are 18,000 guardsmen still in the state camps. These will move as rapidly as the necessary arrangements can be made.

It was indicated at the war department no general movement of guardsmen homeward would be ordered until a decision affecting the border situation had been reached by the American-Mexican commission, now meeting at New London, Conn. The department has submitted the final disposition of all border troops, national guard and regulars, to the commission.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS SUED

Colorado Springs Organization Is Asked to Pay $150,000 Damages.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 19.—Claims for damages for personal injuries approximating $150,000 in twenty-five suits were filed here in district court against the Colorado Springs Athletic club as a result of the collapse of two sections of the grand stand at the White-Welsh arena on Sept. 4.

Fall on Mountain Fatal.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 19.—Word reached here that J. A. Fritsch, a Salt Lake capitalist, injured Friday by a fall into a crevasse on Mount Rainier, is dead at Paradise valley, where he had been taken by others of the mountain-climbing party and their guides.

COURT OF APPEALS FINDS PLUMBERS GUILTY.

Denver, Sept. 19.—The decision of the federal district court of Iowa holding four members of the National Association of Master Plumbers guilty of violation of the Sherman anti-trust law has been upheld by the United States court of appeals now sitting in Denver. *****

Unanimous Consent For Almost Everything During Closing Days of Session Shows That Party Lines Are Not Closely Drawn, Despite Display of Stage Politics.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The campaign managers are finding great difficulty in keeping local issues in several states from cutting a wider swath in the coming election than national questions. That is naturally the case when there is not so very much difference between the parties. If the lines are not sharply drawn in the nation it is almost certain that in the states local questions will cut more of a figure than those of a national character.

As an indication that party differences were not in evidence it is only necessary to revert to the closing days of the recent session when most everything was done by unanimous consent, and there was not even a roll call on the final conference report of the revenue bill, which had been discussed at most wholly on partisan lines.

Stage Politics Played.

But there was a lot of stage politics to enliven the closing hours. In both senate and house men on the opposite sides of the political aisle whanged away at each other with ferocious denunciations of the methods and policies of the opposing parties; criticised the leaders, and in every possible way "carved over the political pastures as if they were in deadly earnest and in deadly opposition. The Record was crammed with these party speeches, but, after all, the real feeling of party strife seemed to be lacking. There were no such party differences as seen in the days of long ago, when greater questions divided the parties than at present.

The day congress adjourned the diplomatic part of the government was quite severely criticised by two Democratic senators. James Hamilton Lewis made the more important observations when he asserted that Japan was hoodwinking the American diplomats in the east and that she was arranging a program in conjunction with Russia and England which would shut America out of the east and the great China markets in spite of all that has been said about the open door.

James Martine of New Jersey continued his attack because an effort was not made to save Sir Roger Casement, who was executed for treason by Great Britain.

Bureaus and Commissions.

"I am tired of bureaucrats," Senator Sherman of Illinois told the senate one day when he was somewhat displeased with methods of the federal administration. Nearly every senator or representative who has much to do with the various bureaus has the same opinion, yet congress goes merrily on and creates more bureaucrats. In the first place commissions are created, and then these commissions become great bureaus of the government, taking over what has heretofore been done by the states or individuals.

Is He a Reactionary?

No doubt Senator Gallinger has been termed a reactionary many times, and yet he does not want anything strange in governmental affairs. During the last days of the session he was having a dispute with Senator Owen of Oklahoma, the latter denying that he was a socialist, as insinuated by Gallinger.

"You and I are wide apart," remarked Gallinger. "I am glad of it," asserted Owen. "So am I," replied Gallinger. "The senator is an 'uplifter,' and I am not. I want to see things go along in their normal and natural course."

And that is all there is to a "reactionary," though several men have been put out of public life for having been called reactionaries.

Gave Kenyon a Chance.

Senator Ransdell of Louisiana gave Senator Kenyon a grand opportunity. Ransdell made a speech in which he criticised Kenyon and incidentally said it was because Iowa opposed rivers and harbors that caused her to lose population. Kenyon came right back and with the agricultural statistics he showed what a grand, glorious, productive state was Iowa. In fact, he placed Iowa well in the front rank in the galaxy of states. He pointed out that federal "pork" did not make prosperity.

Distributing Flowers.

The actual distribution of flowers is no longer permitted in congress, but Jim Mann makes up for it in handing bouquets to various individuals. The day the session ended he was particularly generous to the Democratic leaders. He praised Claude Kitchen as a great Democratic leader and sang poems for Champ Clark, the speaker. "What's the use of changing the house if all he says is true?" asked one of the Republicans who believe in fighting all the time. But that is Mann's way. He fights hard and then distributes the flowers.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN MILL CITY

Coroner Believed It Case of Double Murder and Suicide.

Minneapolis, Sept. 19.—When Helmer Egge returned home from work he smelled gas. Opening the door of his house he found his two sons, Gale, six years old, and Alias, three years old, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Mercy Hanford, seventy-five years old, asphyxiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Egge separated six months ago. At that time Mr. Egge was given the custody of the children and obtained Mrs. Hanford as housekeeper. The husband and wife had just decided to try living together again.

"Mrs. Hanford loved the children and she opposed our reconciliation," Mr. Egge said. Coroner Charles A. Hobbs reported the case as "homicidal and suicidal." He placed a question mark after the word "suicidal."

Alleged Auto Thief on Trial.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Earl Dear, alleged ringleader of one of two groups of automobile thieves, was placed on trial here on a specific charge of having stolen a car belonging to Daniel T. Rose. Fifteen other persons, including Mrs. Alvina Stiles, a real estate operator, charged in indictments with connection with the "trust," have been granted separate trials.
